

BUT ONE ANSWER

to the great health problem—you must keep the digestive system strong and active. Weakness there, soon disturbs the entire system. A daily use of the famous will overcome any weakness in the Stomach, Liver and Bowels and help you maintain health. Start at once.

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters

A Real Need.

A Frenchman named Delamoy has invented an apparatus whereby you can wind your clock by opening and shutting a door, the winding machine doing its work by the action of the door.

What is really needed, however, is an invention that, attached to a door, will get rid of people inside of the room. No known method has yet been invented to accomplish this purpose. Yet is there anything which would promote greater efficiency and comfort and give more lasting satisfaction?—Life.

Important to Mothers

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Wm. C. Hostetter in Use For Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

Patriotic Idea.

"John, why are you not eating your breakfast? What are you looking so queerly at those biscuits for?" "I was wondering, Maria, if it would not be a patriotic thing to offer them to the government for its stock of ammunition."

The Source of Uric Acid

Eating too much is a common habit that does a lot of harm. Most, especially, forms uric acid and the constant filtering of acid-laden blood weakens the kidneys. Uric acid causes rheumatic and nervous trouble, weakens the eyes, forms gravel and leads to dropsy and Bright's disease. Kidney weakness gives early warning, however, such as backache and urinary disorders and can be stopped by prompt treatment. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the best recommended and most widely used kidney remedy.

An Oklahoma Case

"I was troubled terribly by disordered kidneys," says Mrs. D. B. Hayes, of 111 Webster St., Woodward, Okla. "My bladder was inflamed and the kidney secretions gave me great distress. I had pains through my kidneys all the time. On the advice of one of my family I used Doan's Kidney Pills and two or three boxes fixed me up all right. I will always give them my endorsement."

400,000 Settlers a Year

Immigration figures show that the population of Canada increased during 1913, by the addition of 400,000 new settlers from the United States and Europe. Most of these have gone on farms in provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Lord William Percy, an English nobleman, says:

"The possibilities and opportunities offered by the Canadian West are so infinitely greater than those which exist in England, that it seems absurd to think that people should be impeded from coming to the country where they can most easily and certainly improve their position."

New districts are being opened up, which will make accessible a great number of homesteads in districts especially adapted to mixed farming and grain raising.

BIG FUND SPENT TO DUPE U. S.

MILLIONS BEING SPENT BY COLOMBIA TO GET $25,000,000 FROM UNITED STATES.

A MILLION DOLLAR FEE

To Put Over a Treaty Whereby Uncle Sam Pays Colombia Large Sum of Money—American Diplomat Said to Be in an International Scandal.

Washington, June 20—An international scandal, unparalleled in its proportions and half revealed ramifications, has been uncovered by an exposure of the Colombian treaty lobby plot, writes the Chicago Tribune's correspondent.

Following the clues, United States senators came into possession of information leading them to believe that the Colombian government is expending, or prepared to expend, $10,000,000 in this country, contingent upon obtaining the $25,000,000 payment proposed in the treaty.

One contingent fee alone, it is reported, is fixed at $1,000,000, payable by the Colombian government to a former American diplomat in the event of the ratification of the treaty by the United States senate.

So astounding are the revelations that an explosion of indignation in the senate is loomed for. A sweeping investigation of the entire scheme to wring an apology from the United States and practically hand a huge donation to the Colombian exchequer will be demanded as soon as the Republican senators who are following the trail obtain certain additional information.

Another move will be the demand that the secrecy be removed from the Colombian as well as the Nicaraguan treaty, which proposes a $3,000,000 payment to the Central American republic, and that both proposed agreements be debated in the open senate.

The Colombian campaign to procure approval of the treaty comprises these differing classes of endeavor:

1. Anonymous circularizing of the press and Washington correspondents in an effort to sway the opinions of those who present the facts concerning the treaty to the American republic.

2. Employment of distinguished American authorities on international law and former public officials to advise the Colombian government to assist in negotiations with the state department, and to present arguments in favor of the treaty generally.

3. Employment of lobbying agents to call upon United States senators to induce them to vote for ratification of the treaty.

Hannis Taylor, a Washington attorney with a reputation as an authority on international law, who formerly was United States minister to Spain, is the man who, it is reported, will receive the $1,000,000 fee if Colombia succeeds in obtaining American approval of the treaty.

Mr. Taylor admitted he has been employed by Colombia, but denied that his fee is contingent upon ratification of the treaty, or that it is to be $1,000,000 or any other amount agreed upon in advance.

Mr. Taylor asserted that his agreement with the Colombian government provides for "a reasonable fee," to be determined after the termination of the service, and for arbitration to fix the amount in case of a dispute.

Ship Through Panama Locks.

Panama, June 20—Another successful passage through the Miraflores and Pedro Miguel locks of the Panama canal was made by the steamship Santa Clara of the Pacific-Atlantic Steamship company on her return trip to Balboa. The operation was carried out without incident, as on her inward trip yesterday, and the vessel proceeded on her voyage to New York by way of the Magellan Straits. The Santa Clara is the first privately owned ship to pass through the locks and she did so for the purpose of giving experience of the locks to the crew of a steamship of American register.

Laughs at Life Term.

Falls City, Neb., June 20—Leo Davis, 19 years old, who confessed to the authorities here that he murdered Mrs. B. F. Cook, wife of an electric light plant employee, the night of May 25 last, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Raper of the circuit court here. Davis laughed when the court pronounced sentence upon him and remarked that he was delighted to escape more serious punishment.

Ought to Throttle Roads.

Washington, June 20—Criticism of the house bill giving the interstate commerce commission supervisory powers over the issue of railroad securities was voiced by Louis D. Brandeis of Boston. His views were not at all in accord with those expressed previously by members of the commission, which to a large degree, has approved the house bill, which gives the commission power to approve security issues, but would not prohibit specifically any particular issue.

Surely Day of Romance is Not Ended. When Lovesick Swain Can Feel Like This.

"Come, come, old man; don't let it knock you out. There are plenty of other girls in the world. In six months from now you will have forgotten her."

"Yes, I suppose it is as you say; but it isn't six months from now. Everything I see reminds me of her. When I look at another woman I can't help thinking how much more beautiful she is than any of them. When the wind blows I am reminded that it is probably adding to the color of her cheeks. Whenever I pass a corner where she and I have stood together I have a strange empty feeling as if something were gone out of my life."

"When I look up at the sky, I cannot keep from remembering that it is above her. If I could only forget her for only a day, for only an hour, I think I might learn to hope again; but I can't get her out of my mind. It seems to me that the whole world is changed since she told me that I was never to see her again. I can't understand how anybody manages to keep on being happy. I would give almost anything to forget her."—Chicago Record-Herald.

SCORED ONE ON HIS RIVAL

Brown Had Overlooked Leap Year and Jones Was Quick to Mark the Point.

Irving Fletcher, the well-known advertising expert, said at an advertising men's dinner at Delmonico's in New York:

"A good advertisement never lies. It never deceives. For it can only pay by making life patrons, not transient ones."

"A good advertisement never lies, but it states its case as strongly as possible, and it avails itself of every point, however slight. There it is like young Jones."

"Young Jones proposed at Lakewood to a pretty girl, but she said uncertainly, swinging her slim foot in and out of her slashed skirt."

"I like you, Mr. Jones. But, then, I like Mr. Brown, too. And Mr. Brown is so devoted. He says he thinks of me 365 days in the year."

"Huh!" snorted young Jones, contemptuously. "He wants a day off every four years, does he? Well, I hope you're not taken in by any such one-horse devotion as that."

WILLING TO GIVE AWAY PAPA

Youthful Logician Met Appeal to His Generosity With a Crushing Answer.

A mother was urging her little son to be generous, specifically in the case of a small comrade not well endowed with worldly goods.

"I wish you'd give your little wagon to Melville," she suggested. "He has so few toys and you have so many."

"I don't want to, mamma. I like my little wagon. Why doesn't his papa buy toys for him?"

"He has no papa, dear. That is the reason why I want you to be so particularly nice to him. It would be no virtue in you to give him what you don't want anyway. We should always be careful to share what we really prize. Now, as I say, Melville has no papa and—"

"Well, why don't you give him papa, then?" was the youthful logician's reply.

Pets and Broken Hearts.

The dog of Mistrall, the Provencal poet, died the day after Mistrall's recent death. It is a fairly common thing for dogs, cats, canaries and other pets to die a few days or even hours after their masters. But do they die of grief? It is not likely.

A Manayunk physician examined the corpse of a canary that had succumbed with its little mistress. The canary's death, the examination showed, was due not to a broken heart, but to scarlet fever, the maldy to which its little mistress had herself succumbed.

From this and from kindred post-mortems it is surmised that pets, when they die simultaneously with their owners, have become infected with the disease that carried their owners off—measles, diphtheria, typhoid. The death-from-grief story is pretty, but, alas, it won't wash.

A Rare, Rare Man.

William H. Hamby, short story writer and novelist, is a great lover of folks and makes friends with all sorts and conditions of men. One day while on an outing in the Ozarks he got a hill billy who was something of a character to accompany him on a fishing excursion in order to study the type. The two men spent the day in the woods together and returned to camp old friends and then Mr. Hamby learned that he was not the only one on the expedition who had been studying his companion. As they shook hands in parting the hill billy said:

"I taken a likin' to yuh, but yuh shore be the queerest man I ever see. I've noticed you all day, an' yuh ain't took a drink, yuh ain't took a smoke and yuh ain't cussed onct!"—Kansas City Star.

Why Not Armor for Every Bullet?

An ingenious New York doctor has invented a bichloride of mercury tablet in which the antidote is combined with the poison, so that a person may swallow corrosive sublimate, intentionally or accidentally, with immunity. It's a capital idea, and ought to be applied to poisons generally, and possibly Maxim might find some way of applying the principle to firearms. An automatic, self-resisting bullet, or something of that sort, would be of much greater utility than his silencer.

Her Explanation.

"Uncle Hank" Barnhart, member of congress from Indiana, tells of a young man from out his way who met a young woman he had not seen for many years.

"I thought you were dead," was the young man's greeting.

"No," insisted the girl, "but I'm married."

"To whom?"

"Oh, some Englishman."

The Domestic Mark.

"A man should be master in his own house, Mr. Dolan," said Mr. Rafferty.

"He should. But instead of being master every now and then he finds himself forced into the position of umpire."
